Thank You!

The arrival of summer is filled with both excitement and a little bit of sadness. After 180 days of learning and growing, students and staff are ready for a well deserved summer break. But the end of the year also means bidding farewell to 37 weeks with the same school “family”. School is about building knowledge and building connections, and even when we return to different teachers, different grades, and maybe even different schools, next school year, those connections will remain.

Thank you all for another amazing school year! Our amazing students, our fabulous staff, and our tremendously supportive families are what make our schools great, and will continue to make next year even better!

Have a great summer!
